

Food promotion in India

A DELEGATION has visited India to promote Danish food solutions. The food minister, Esben Lunde Larsen, along with 21 companies and organisations, not only promoted the country's food products, but also technology and knowledge associated with agriculture – such as cooling tech and food security expertise. Last year, India was Denmark's 36th largest export market.