

World news

Bus stop Boys play on a flooded road after heavy rain in New Delhi. The Indian capital had its highest rainfall in a day since 2003, with 126.1mm (5in) between 8.30am and 5.30pm local time, yesterday. The India Meteorological Department has predicted more rainfall and thundershowers today.